

Annual Report 2010

This year our Technical Committee 13 for Human-Computer-Interaction was affected by financial cutbacks at different universities worldwide and at Swiss universities, too. The original plan to play an active part in the WG 13.6 Human Work Interaction Design by our Swiss member wasn't possible because of financial cutbacks at the university which forced him to take over other tasks. Additionally we moved our Expert Profiling Database to the University of Kaiserslautern where Dr. Achim Ebert will take care of it. The personal resources to maintain the database weren't available any longer. In spite of everything we had the possibility to take part in the Programm Committee for the 2nd IFIP International Human-Computer Interaction Symposium at the WCC2010 in Brisbane, Australia. In December 2010 we started with the reviewing process for the biennial conference Interact 2011 in Lisbon, Portugal.
